

HAVE YOUR SAY!

Help doctors and researchers measure what matters to you!

Quality of life is an important concept we all understand, yet measuring it reliably is complex and difficult.

If you are 50 or older with age related macular degeneration (AMD), you can help researchers at the University of New South Wales Australia validate an extensive Quality of life Survey developed specifically for people with AMD.

The survey can be completed online, on paper or via telephone.

To learn more about the study, please access this link <https://redcap.link/AMDQoLproject> or QR code

Alternatively contact Dr Sheela Kumaran on sheela.kumaran@unsw.edu.au

This study is funded by the Macular Disease Foundation Australia & approved by the UNSW Human Research Ethics Committee (Approval Number: HC210659).